

PROCLAMATION!!

Next Week Is State Fair Week---Get the Spirit Now

Another year of advancement and progress of our people in every line of business and human endeavor will be marked by the Virginia State Fair of 1912. Farm, factory and fireside will contribute to the wonderful exhibit of Virginia's resources. Horses, Sheep, Cattle and Swine; Farm products, Machinery, Merchandise and the handiwork of man, woman and child will be exhibited to thousands who will gain inspiration, instruction and pleasure thereby. Everything that men, money and management could accomplish has been combined to make the Virginia State Fair of 1912 greater and better in every way. It is YOUR Fair---Patronize it. Come early and often. Night and Day, for six days, commencing Monday, October 7th, there will be one continuous round of events which will exploit as never before all that is interesting in the Agricultural, Mechanical, Industrial, Manufacturing, Merchandising and Amusement World.

To Every One Within, and Outside, the Confines of Richmond and Virginia---A Hearty Welcome Awaits You

TATE SENTENCE AGAIN SUSPENDED

Gets Further Respite Awaiting Action by Governor on Petition for Pardon.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Danville, Va., September 30.—With the Commonwealth's attorney strenuously objecting, D. Pinkney Tate, former minister, who was convicted last June of embezzlement, in the Corporation Court was to-day allowed his fourth suspension of sentence. He was given a three day respite by Judge R. W. Peartree, and must appear before the courts on Wednesday morning. Malcolm Harris, Tate's counsel, stated that his grounds for asking for a further stay of sentence were that the Governor yet has Tate's petition before him and has not acted upon it. The Commonwealth's attorney opposed the suspension on the ground that Tate had ample time to apply for a writ of error when the first respite of ninety days was granted him, but that he had failed to do so. He maintained that Tate was waiting for the Governor to be elected to be able to surrender to the court as all criminals are and there await the pleasure of the State executive. Tate was released on $1,000 bond.

Entertainment for Roosevelt. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., September 30.—The Chamber of Commerce and the Progressive party of Wake County have appointed committees to give Colonel Roosevelt entertainment when he arrives to-morrow afternoon. He will speak at night in the auditorium.

DENY TESTIMONY OF CODEFENDANT

Seven Aldermen Swear That They Did Not Accept Bribes.

Detroit, Mich., September 30.—Testifying in their own behalf at a preliminary hearing to-day, seven of the seventeen Detroit Aldermen charged with conspiracy, denied the testimony of their codefendant, Edward Schreier, a former Council clerk, that they had accepted or promised to accept bribes from a detective, believing at the time that the money had been offered them as payment for alleged councilmanic favors to be tendered the Wabash Railroad. Their evidence completed the hearing. Justice Jeffries announced he would make public his decision Friday.

Crushed to Death. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Staunton, Va., September 30.—D. C. Eddins, a youth of seventeen years, attempting to climb on a fast Chesapeake and Ohio freight train at North Mountain last night lost his hold and fell under the wheels and was badly mangled, dying instantly. He was the son of C. C. Eddins, of Spring Hill, Augusta County, and was returning to Augusta Springs, where he worked in a tannery.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE IN THE APPLE MARKET

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Winchester, Va., September 30.—Another week has passed without any material change in the apple market. Buyers are still offering prices which the majority of growers will not accept, and the latter are making arrangements to sell their orchard products direct to commission merchants in the large commercial centers of the North, East, South and Middle West. One leading grower realized from $2 to $2.50 a barrel for his Grimes Golden apples, which were shipped to Birmingham, Ala., and he has obtained $3 a barrel for his Black Twigs and Stayman Winesaps, delivered on the cars. Growers now realize that they cannot expect to get as much money for their apples this year from the men who come to buy as some of them have in recent years, but many of the horticulturists who attended the apple packing school held here recently have learned how to pick and pack and market the apples themselves, thus saving the buyer's profit. The crop of No. 1 apples in Frederick County this fall is not as large as it was last year by over 75,000 barrels, but the quality is just as good. Large numbers of men who have had considerable experience as pickers and packers have arrived from various sections of the country, and went to work early to-day in practically all the big commercial orchards of the county to harvest the crop. Frost fell in the mountainous sections Saturday night, but it was not heavy, and the fruit growers are not alarmed. They do not intend to take any risks, however, as reports have been received from the Middle West that snow has fallen a month earlier than last year, and no time will be lost in packing the apples and placing them in cold storage until market conditions become more favorable. Advices received during the past week from Glasgow and Liverpool indicate that No. 1 Virginia Valley apples are commanding better prices now in the European market than was anticipated a month ago, and some of the Winchester growers who have fancy apples have arranged to ship the best of their orchards direct to their agents in Liverpool, Glasgow and other British markets. One local grower's consignment netted him $3.21 in Glasgow last week.

Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage in Washington of Mrs. Elizabeth Brunson Fauntleroy, widow of Dr. Thomas F. Fauntleroy, of Staunton, to Luther L. Bowman, of the same place. The marriage took place less than six weeks after the death of Dr. Fauntleroy, which occurred recently in the Kings' Daughters' Hospital, at Staunton, where he had been a rheumatic invalid for more than ten years. Mrs. Fauntleroy is said to have lived happily with her husband until he became an invalid, and she even visited him at intervals while he was in the hospital, but later on she filed a suit for a divorce. Failing to get Staunton and Washington lawyers to take up her case, she went to Reno, Nevada, with a woman companion. It was reported that she was about to be awarded a decree when Dr. Fauntleroy died. His remains were entered in the family lot in Mount Hebron Cemetery, this city. She quit Reno shortly thereafter, and was met in Washington last week by Mr. Bowman, who is a man of much wealth. Mr. Bowman was several months ago made defendant in a suit for damages by Dr. Fauntleroy, who claimed that Bowman had alienated the affections of his wife. A compromise, however, was effected, by Mr. Bowman paying Dr. Fauntleroy $4,500 and costs.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau, The Times-Dispatch, 1020 Hull Street.

James B. Henry, the young soldier who was mysteriously shot through the leg two weeks ago, was last night arrested on a charge of being a deserter from the Fort-fourth Company, Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Washington, Maryland. He was taken to the Third Station, where he will be held pending the arrival of Federal officers or advices from his commanding officer.

Henry, who is a private, was on a furlough and was visiting a married sister on the Southside. He was on his way to her home late at night when suddenly, according to his story, he bumped into a man rounding the corner of Eighth and McDonough Streets. Words passed between them, and the man reached for a weapon. Henry then grappled with his assailant, who managed to pull out a pistol, which he pressed against the young soldier's leg and fired. Henry dodged behind a pole and the man ran up the street.

This tale was not believed by the Southside police, who were certain that the man had overstayed his leave and had purposely wounded himself to escape punishment. They were, however, unable to locate the weapon from which the shot was fired.

Henry has been in the City Hospital since the affair. The bullet missed the bone, but inflicted an ugly flesh wound.

To Work at Post-Office. Miss Lizzie Clary, of East Eighth Street, has received an appointment to a clerical position in the Manchester station of the post-office, and will assume her new duties this morning. The position was recently created when it was found that the rapidly increasing business of the station could not be handled by the six clerks now employed.

Veterans' Picnic To-Morrow. Beginning early to-morrow morning, the annual picnic of the Woodbridge Camp, Confederate Veterans, will be held on the lawn at Chesterfield Court-house. Chesterfield Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will be the hostesses for the occasion. Former Governor Andrew Jackson Montague, who was selected as the orator of the day, has accepted the invitation, and will be present.

School Open Monday. Official notification of the opening of the Franklin School, Swansboro, and the Oak Grove School has been sent to the teachers by E. E. Foy, chairman of the Manchester District School Board. Both schools will throw open their doors for the enrollment of old scholars Monday morning, while new children will be received Tuesday. Classes will take up their work on the following day.

Justice H. A. Maurice, of the Police Court, Part II, was yesterday able to resume his work, after several days' illness. He, however, found a small pocket to deal with.

Building Company, which was scheduled for a hearing yesterday in Hustings Court, Part II, was continued indefinitely.

A civil suit instituted by L. Irrelson against the city of Richmond will be heard by Judge Ernest H. Wells this morning in Hustings Court, Part II. John A. Lamb represents the plaintiff, and Colonel George Wayne Anderson the city.

Death of Miss Pacini. Miss Editha Pacini, nineteen years old, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the residence of her mother, Mrs. A. E. Pacini, 408 West Twenty-first Street, after an illness of about two years. Besides her mother, she is survived by a brother and three sisters.

The funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock from the Sacred Heart Church. The interment will be in Mount Calvary.

Personal Mention. Mrs. David P. Walke, who has been ill for several days, is greatly improved.

Judge J. M. Gregory and daughter, Miss Imogen Gregory, have returned from Pulaski, where they attended the State reunion of United Confederate Veterans.

Three Men Fined for Violation of Byrd Law. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Fredericksburg, Va., September 30.—O. M. Armstrong, J. W. Thompson, and Richard Bode, charged with violating the Byrd law by selling soft drinks known as Sa-chu-la, were each fined by Police Justice Dannehl $50, and a bond of $500 required in each case. An appeal was taken. The dealers testified that the company guaranteed that the sale of the drink was not in violation of the Byrd law, and that they would substantiate that guarantee. The president of the company was there and testified that the drink contained no alcohol, except that in the syrup with which it was sweetened. And examination by the State chemist showed that the drink contained alcohol ranging from 1.15 to 2.99 per cent. Six bottles were analyzed.

Congressman H. D. Flood will address voters of Spotsylvania County at the courthouse Monday next, October 7, which is court day. It is expected that a large crowd will be present to hear the Congressman.

W. Easton Moore, of this city, has been appointed principal of the High School at Great Hall, King William County, near West Point. He will take charge of the school as soon as the new school building is completed, which will be in a short time.

The engineering corps which has been making preliminary surveys for the Washington and Hampton Railroad has nearly reached Tappahannock, in Essex County.

AMERICAN FIRM MAKES PROTEST

Claims Its Figures for Shells Was Based on Eight-Hour Law.

Washington, September 30.—Whether American or British mechanics will make nearly a million dollars worth of armor-piercing shells for the United States Navy next year, probably will depend upon a decision by the Attorney-General as to the applicability of the eight-hour law to the contracts for the shells.

An English firm bid lowest for the contracts, but the American company, which offered the next lowest price, now claims that bid was made with the understanding that its establishment would have to be placed on an eight-hour basis. If the eight-hour law is not to be applied, this company wants to make another proposal with a heavy cut in its figures.

SEARCH WILL BE MADE FOR PAYLOR

Rewards Aggregating $600 to Be Offered for Missing Danville Treasurer.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Danville, Va., September 30.—Within the next few days illustrated handbills will be distributed throughout the entire length and breadth of the United States offering a reward of $600 for the capture of William S. Paylor, the defaulting treasurer. The Commonwealth's attorney to-day received a letter from Governor Mann authorizing the payment of $200 by the State for his arrest, while the Illinois Surety Company has offered a like sum, as also the Fidelity Deposit Company. The bills are being printed in Baltimore and will be headed by a picture of the man. The State reward will be valid for four months only. It is generally thought that the city will not offer a reward, the Board of Aldermen at its last meeting declining to discuss the question on the grounds that the city is not interested in Paylor's whereabouts.

Death Due to Lockjaw. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Winston-Salem, N. C., September 30.—Wiley G. Logan died here this morning as a result of lockjaw following an attack of blood poisoning which developed from sticking a nail in his foot while working for the contractors building the extension of the South-bound Railway up Bar Branch, in Salem. This accident befell Mr. Logan only last Friday.
